- President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf has commended the Public Procurement and Concessions Commission (PPCC), which was established 10 years ago for spearheading and guiding the process of ensuring the economic and efficient use of public funds in public procurement and to ensure that public procurement and concession processes are conducted in a fair, transparent, and non-discriminatory manner. The President spoke on Thursday, June 30, at the Monrovia City Hall during the PPCC Annual Forum with a view to sharing experiences on the recent Procurement Client Perception Survey conducted, the improved ratings of efficiency in the public procurement system, and at least 51% of ordinary Liberians' view on the public procurement system as being corruption-free.
