ABOUT LAST MILE HEALTH

Last Mile Health's mission is to save lives in the world's most remote communities. We aim to deliver high-quality primary health services to more than one million people living in the most remote communities by partnering with governments to deploy, sustain, and manage national networks of community health professionals. As part of its recovery effort after the end of the Ebola outbreak, the Liberia Ministry of Health has prioritized launching a national community health workforce able to prevent, diagnose, and treat the most life-threatening health conditions. Working side-by-side, LMH and the MOH are designing and implementing a national roll-out of a network of community health workers to stretch the country's primary health services to the most rural communities to improve maternal and child health and serve as a front-line response for future outbreaks. We envision a world in which there is a health worker for everyone, everywhere, every day.

Last Mile Health is a registered 501(c) 3 non-profit organization with offices in Liberia, Boston and New York. For more information, visit www.lastmilehealth.org.
