

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PRESIDENT'S DAILY ACTIVITIES – Monday, January 29, 2018

- President George Weah has delivered his maiden state of the Nation Address and promised to reduce his salary by 25 percent in light of the prevailing economic situation facing the nation. The Liberian leader paid tribute to outgoing President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf and said he was privileged and honored by her presence to grace the occasion. "Madam, WELCOME. Your presence here today shows how far we have come as people," he said.
