- The Liberian leader visited the Robert International Airport (RIA) to inspect the three brand new electronic scanners installed there meant to detect elevated body temperature even if an individual is 10 meters away and numerous other physical conditions including fever.

The Temperature Electronic Scanners that have been installed at both the entry and departure terminals of the airport were provided by the Government of Japan to buttress government's efforts in containing the deadly Ebola virus.

President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf used the opportunity to inform journalists that the re-emergence of the new Ebola virus disease outbreak in lower Margibi County will be nip in the bud. "I am confident that the situation will be put under control," she asserted.

- President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf attended programs in observance of the 239th Independence Anniversary of the United States of America at the Executive Pavilion in Monrovia.

She expressed thanks and appreciation to the Government and people of the United States of America whose vigorous response in the fight against Ebola helped to calm anxieties and restore hope. "The presence of U.S. troops, who were deployed strategically at various locations and building a state of the art mobile clinic to care particularly for health workers, reinforced this confidence, Liberians breathe a sigh of relief," President Sirleaf said.
