Title: Head of Agronomy
Posting Number: S_70
Posting Date: February 20, 2026
Reporting to: General Manager, Firestone Liberia
Grade Level: M3

Applications will be accepted up to March 07,2026

Firestone Liberia (FSLB), an indirect subsidiary of Bridgestone Americas (BSAM), seeks a Head of Agronomy (HoA) to oversee the company's agricultural operations. Leading a multi-faceted team, the HoA will implement the company's strategic intent to implement a transparent and traceable supply chain, sourcing sustainable natural rubber from both the Concession Area and Firestone's registered outgrowers.

Minimum Qualifications

- Master's degree and/or 10+ years of relevant experience including agricultural business management in countries that pose significant economic and social challenges. A background in tropical tree crops / agriculture would be an advantage.
- Executive presence and experience working with C-suite executives.
- Superior influencing and negotiation skills, including the ability to lead and work collaboratively with a cross-functional team of both internal teammates and external agency partners.
- Proven ability to write content in a clear, concise, compelling way in the face of changing deadlines.
- Continuous demonstration of superior problem-solving, decision-making and project management skills.
- Results-oriented with an ability to think strategically while executing tactically.
- Ability to work independently, as well as be a strong team player in a fast-paced, dynamic environment.
- Strong skills in project management, client service, time management, multi-tasking; an ability to adhere to fixed deadlines and flexibility to handle changing deadlines.
- Exceptional written, verbal, interpersonal and presentation skills.
- Ability to clearly articulate messages to a variety of audiences.
